2026 CPO INNOVATION SUMMIT

March 18-19

SYNOPSIS

The Summit will bring together an exclusive group of senior procurement and supply chain leaders to explore how procurement is evolving into a strategic driver of enterprise value, innovation, and growth.

Hosted at Jabil Headquarters in Florida, the Summit will provide a focused, peer-led environment designed to move beyond theory and into practical leadership insight.

Across a series of executive discussions, lightning-round exchanges, and interactive roundtables, the program will explore how procurement leaders can elevate their role within the C-suite, redesign operating models through data and AI, and shift from cost management to measurable business impact.

Central themes will include redefining performance metrics, enabling innovation through supplier ecosystems, and aligning procurement strategies with broader enterprise priorities.

A key focus of the Summit will be helping leaders navigate AI adoption with intention. Sessions will examine how to design outcome-driven AI blueprints, strengthen governance and data readiness, and embed intelligence into everyday decision-making.

Real-world perspectives, including Jabil's transformation journey, will demonstrate how procurement can evolve from a perceived bottleneck into a competitive advantage.

Designed for senior executives responsible for procurement, digital transformation, and supply chain strategy, the Summit will offer attendees the opportunity to exchange candid insights with peers facing similar challenges. Participants will leave with practical frameworks, new perspectives on leadership and performance, and a roadmap for turning innovation into enterprise impact.
